

Launch of the joint report
Current Situation and Prospects of Organic Agriculture in Eurasian Economic Union prepared by the World Bank and the Eurasian Center for Food Security (ECFS) 13 October 2020, 14-30 Moscow time
 Moderator: Artavazd Hakobyan, Senior Agriculture Economist, the World Bank

Agenda

Time	Topic of discussion	Speaker
14:30 – 14:40	Welcoming remarks	Sergey Shoba, Director, Eurasian Center for Food Security at Lomonosov Moscow State University
14:40 – 14:50	Goals, objectives and Results of the Organic Agriculture Project in EAEU Countries	Artavazd Hakobyan, Senior Agricultural Economist, the World Bank
14:50 – 15:10	Highlights of the main findings in the report
14:50 – 15:00	Institutional and socio-psychological aspects of the organic products' market development in the EAEU countries	Sergey Lamanov, the World Bank
15:00 – 15:10	Constraints, challenges and Integration measures for the development of a common market for organic products in the EAEU	Roman Romashkin, Deputy Director, Eurasian Center for Food Security at Lomonosov Moscow State University
15:10-16:00	Report discussion in the context of achievements and challenges of the organic agriculture in the EAEU member states
15:10-15:20	Achievements and challenges of the organic agriculture in Armenia	Arman Khojoyan, Deputy Minister of Economy, Republic of Armenia
15:20-15:30	Achievements and challenges of the organic agriculture in Russia	Sergey Korshunov, Member of the Public Council of the Ministry of Agriculture of the Russian Federation, Chairmen of the Board of the Union of Organic Agriculture
15:30-15:40	Achievements and challenges of the organic agriculture in Kazakhstan	Kairat Nazhmidenov, FAO representatives in Kazakhstan
15:40-15:50	Achievements and challenges of the organic agriculture in the Kyrgyz Republic	Zhanarkan Bakirova, Director of the Department of Organic Agriculture of the Ministry of Agriculture, Food industry and Melioration of the Kyrgyz Republic
15:50-16:00	Achievements and challenges of the organic agriculture in Belarus	Tatyana Karbanovich, Deputy Head of the directorate for Crop production of the Food and Agriculture Ministry of Belarus (TBC)
16:00 – 16:10	Closing remarks	Sergiy Zorya, Lead Agriculture Economist, the World Bank